Tasting Fresh Durian From Hawaii Mailed to San Francisco

Year of the Durian - We Travel For Durian - 936 views
That’s awesome Oscar! I love durians but the only good ones we get here are the Mao Shan King from Malaysia. Can the Durians be shipped to the mainland? Congratulations on the magnificent harvest!

what’s the going rate per pound in Hilo now? Can’t wait for quality neighbor island durian to come oahu!

They usually retail for between $4 and $4.50 a pound.

Yes they can be shipped to the mainland, but it's hard to find a courier that would want to deal with the smell. Also the demand is much larger than the supply right in Hawaii, so why would anyone to go through the hassle of shipping them?

Great pics, thanks Oscar. I would be very keen to taste that chanee seedling. We're seeing the same phenomenon in Hakalau this year, but I'm skeptical of... fit_shortie_eats How much durian porn CAN you take? Yesterday durian count was 10, I only click the best ones for ya like this psang mane. I don't have to tell you its good - you can see from the softness, the wrinkles. Simon has brought it to my attention that the more pigment a fruit has, the more photoreceptors it has hence the memory race with 66 years. This is what I call nature's experience.
